Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 5 and 7-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mandler et al. (US Patent No. 5,732,400).

Mandler et al teach all the claimed limitations. Particularly, Mandler et al. Disclose a system and method for providing online credit limits to buyers from a third party financing system for paying a vendor such as a manufacturer, exporter or trader. See the abstract. The system and method comprise an accounts receivable database receiving and storing invoices issued by one or more prescribed vendors for sales made to specified buyers, a credit limits database containing various credit limits applicable to buyer's accounts receivables that are subject to existing third party financing, the credit limits dictated by factors including terms of the third party financing, a credit limits tester performing substantially real time checking of buyers' invoices in the accounts receivables database to ensure compliance with the credit limits set forth in the credit limits database for the buyers. Applicant is directed to column 5, line 50 to column 16, line 67 of Mandler et al. The credit limits are based on various criteria and the third party financing includes at least one of a credit insurance and finance agreements. A report generator provides various types of reports. Updates of all information are provided.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mandler et al (US Patent No. 5,732,400) in view of Field (US Patent No. 6,073,104).

As per claims 4 and 6, the teachings of Mandler et al are discussed above. Mandler et al do not explicitly teach some of the third party financing comprises purchase of accounts receivables by third parties in which case the credit limits applicable to accounts receivables comprise amounts of the purchases or the credit limits database being configured to repeatedly update the credit limits to according to new information for the third parties financiers. These limitations are taught by Field. Applicant is directed to column 13, line 3 to column 14, line 17 and column 16, lines 14-30. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to incorporate the teachings Filed into Mandler et al in order to check for a basis for providing credits to potential buyers.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
